

SBA APPROVED FINTECH FIRMS

Fintech firms are not actually banks, but instead firms that employ financial technology (i.e., “fintech”) to facilitate a company’s management of its financial operations. The term fintech itself references multiple types of technology, such as specialized software and algorithms, used on hardware devices, such as pcs, smartphones and tablets. The list below are leading fintech firms permitted to accept the SBA’s PPP loans, but there may be others.^[Source]
